Focused and Flexible

Ruthcon, a dynamic, all-encompassing civil engineering company, has been awarded the contract for the bulk earthworks and general civil engineering services work for Phase 1 of Eye of Africa.

Since its establishment in 1994, Ruthcon has embraced the empowerment needs of the country and the construction industry in particular.

Ruthcon has a Black Economic Empowerment shareholder majority as well as a procurement strategy geared towards empowered suppliers.

Furthermore, a structured employment equity and training committee has been established to focus on uplifting historically disadvantaged people employed by the company.

Ruthcon was also one of the first civil contractors to be appointed by Bombela CJV to help prepare the way for the building of the stations and the tunnels for the Gautrain development.

A snowy surprise!

The existing homestead sporting a European look from recent snowfalls. If the snowfalls continue we may just consider incorporating a ski club!

Community Opportunity!

Eye of Africa recently sponsored the annual golf day hosted by Frances Vorweg School on the 5th of June. This golf day helped raise necessary funds for the school.

Situated in Haddon, the state-subsidised school caters primarily for children with cerebral palsy and children with learning disabilities. The School draws learners from the Southern Suburbs, Soweto, Alberton, Germiston and the Southern Gauteng Region.

Eye of Africa was delighted to be involved in this worthy project.
